For 2012, I have also included a full 12 X 24 inch centerfold which can be removed from the calendar once July is finished. As always, a portion of the net proceeds is donated to charities that support America's wounded soldiers, marines, sailors and airmen - and their families. In the past, we have made a majority of our donations to the Fisher House Foundation (www.FisherHouse.ORG). The Fisher House provides housing for the families of wounded service personnel while they are visiting their sons, daughters, fathers, mothers, husbands, etc. For 2012, I also decided to make this a bit more "PG13" rated. All the pictures of the models have been slightly photoshopped to mask certain areas of their bodies. My intention is to make the calendar more universally acceptable and thus, generate more donations for charity. If you wish to see the un-retouched images, information on how to access them is included inside the calendar. This is the third calendar in the Tribute Calendar series. The 2010 and 2011 calendars, as well as posters of each bodypainted model are also available.
